Area Information

Cloquet is the county seat and a fast growing city of 1,000. It is the recreational gateway to Jay Cooke State Park, the Miller Morgan Bike Trail, the National Kayak Center, whitewater rafting and the “Cafeteria Rocks” area where wild blueberries and raspberries abound. There are delightful shops to browse downtown.

Cloquet began as several little settlements built around three sawmills. The frontier site was platted in 1883 and a year later was incorporated into the village of Cloquet. The village became a city in 1904. Today Cloquet is Carlton County’s commerce, medical, and population center with 11,000 residents.

Duluth is the busiest American port on the Great Lakes, sharing the harbor with Superior, Wisconsin. The completion of the St. Lawrence Seaway in 1959 opened the harbor to direct overseas commerce. Facilities include grain elevators, ore loaders, tanker terminals for oil and coal, refrigerated docks and a container dock.

Duluth was named for a native Dakota word meaning “ envoy” and was reached by Lake Superior in 1679. The first permanent settlement was made in 1853.
